Description

A very well proportioned, Edwardian Vienna Regulator wall clock in an architectural style case. It has a Greek style pediment, reeded side pilasters, and a shaped base, with side glazed panels. The two piece white enamel dial is signed by the original retailer, Howe Brothers. It has an 8 day weight driven movement, which has a fine dead beat escapement, maintaining power (to prevent time loss when winding) and a wood rod pendulum with a brass bob with an enamel beat plaque at the rating thread.
