

Mahogany Fusee Dial Clock by Elliott

Sold

REF: 158830

Depth: 16 cm (6.3")

Diameter: 38 cm (15")

Description

A mahogany wall clock from a government office. The round clock has a mahogany case, with a cast brass bezel and a white dial with Roman numerals and a George VI crest. It has an 8 day chain driven fusee movement, with stop-work to prevent over-winding, and is stamped by the manufacturer F.W. Elliott 18390 and is dated 1941. The inside inspection door has an affixed label stating that the clock was in Devonshire House, and was in the Statute Law Committee Room 626 .