

Nickel Plated Ships Bulkhead Clock

Sold

REF: 376026

Depth: 11 cm (4.3")

Diameter: 26.5 cm (10.4")

Description

An Early 20th Century ships bulkhead clock, having a polished nickel plated case, mounted on a light mahogany turned back. It has a 7 inch painted dial, signed by the original maker/supplier, John Lilley & Son, Ltd. and has an 8 day platform movement.

An extract from the Science Museum:

John Lilley & Son 1846 - 1913

INDUSTRY: Instrument maker, Optician

NATIONALITY: British

BASED: Limehouse, Tower Hamlets, London, Greater London, England, United Kingdom

1846-1865 - Traded at 7 Jamaica Terrace, Limehouse, London. 1870-1885 - Traded at 9 London St, London EC. 1890-1901 - Traded at 10 London St, London EC. Appointed by the Navy & East India Co. Known to have sold compass (magnetic).

Also, his work is in The National Maritime Museum, Greenwich, London